

SPENCER BOHREN STORYTELLING

Spencer Bohren's audiences love his original and traditional songs, but they are often equally enthusiastic about the stories he tells. Sometimes these stories introduce songs or expound on his lifetime of travel, but he has also been known to express an opinion or two in the course of his tales. And then there are the songs which are stories in and of themselves.

Additionally, Spencer presents dedicated storytelling, as listed below. Some of it is historical in aspect, some of it reflects a life well-lived. All of it is entertaining and has found an avid audience at storytelling festivals including acclaimed International Storytelling Festival in Jonesborough, Tennessee.

Here are a few sample subjects Spencer has been known to put into the mix at concerts.

Down the Dirt Road Blues

Songs of Protest

Where'd You Get That Guitar?

Places I've Been

It's Been Good to Know You

The Story's in the Song
